'Only I Know' (2025), Mixed media on canvas

Natalie Mills is a contemporary artist working with abstraction. She studied a BA Hons in Fine Art at The Byam Shaw School of Art London, graduating in 1998. Predominantly an abstract artist with an intuitive process, she blends colour and texture with materials such as acrylic, spray paint, and collage.

Her pieces are colourful and spontaneous but also very emotive, mostly with an underlying figurative element that emerge organically from the abstracts, which shows her ongoing exploration of creating a relationship between the two. For this exhibition, her mixed media composition represents the fact that some things are not always as they seem, following the theme of 'Surreal'.
